The Tewantin Guide to be launched tomorrow

Tewantin has hit the map – literally!

Known for generations as one of the naturally beautiful spots on the coast, Tewantin businesses have joined forces with Noosa Council as part of its Retail/Commercial Precinct Strategy to create The Tewantin Guide - a must for all locals, new residents and visitors.

Months in the making, the guide is centered around the historical, shopping, dining and lifestyle opportunities in the area, along with a handy list of local phone numbers of more than 180 businesses.

The Tewantin Community Association (formed by business and community representatives) has been hard at work putting council funding towards developing the fold-out guide and map. The guide can be utilized by the local tourism industry as well as serving as a valuable tool for householders and visitors.

Soon to be available at all Tewantin business outlets and tourist information centres, Noosa Mayor Bob Abbot says he is delighted with the production of the guide.

“I’m thrilled that the partnership between the Tewantin Community Association and Noosa Council has produced such a useful and attractive guide the whole community can be proud of.

“The guide is the first of its kind for Tewantin and serves to remind us that at a time when things are about change on a council level, the heart and voice of every community continues to bind us. Tewantin has always been a fine example of this spirit” Mayor Abbot said.

Invited guests from a wide variety of Tewantin and coast businesses will celebrate the launch of the guide and the new Tewantin logo at Tewantin Noosa RSL.
